Title: Localized pattern formation

Abstract: Coherent structures which are localized in space are seen in many different areas of science. This talk is a (hopefully) informal introduction to this topic. I will discuss equilibria of nonlinear systems and their bifurcations, as well as various dynamic phenomenon. Applications to systems of physical interest will be highlighted. Finally, I will mention some relatively unexplored subfields and open problems.